WANEK HORN-MILLER

A Mohawk from the Kahnawake Mohawk Territory near Montreal, Waneek was behind the lines during the Oka crisis in 1990 when she was stabbed by a Canadian soldier's bayonet. It was a near-death experience that marked a turning point in her life. Waneek has overcome discrimination and violence to emerge as one of North America's most inspiring female Indigenous speakers. As one of Canada's few Indigenous Olympians, Waneek has used her unique experiences in life and sport combined with a passion for her culture to influence Indigenous and non-Indigenous leadership in sport and wellness, Indigenous business, women in business and community building.

Join us for an inspiring presentation with Waneek on Thursday.

WANEK HORN-MILLER

WEDNESDAY NIGHT DINNER WITH WHISKEY AND SULLY BURROWS

Join us Wednesday evening for a country themed night. We start with a whiskey tasting joined by staff from Wayne Gretzky's Distillery. After, enjoy a delicious dinner, followed by country recording artist Sully Burrows and his band who will play his latest music.
